Additionally, those selected by the Volaris Jury to receive the Annual Pass will be contacted by email by 8:00 p.m. (local time in Mexico City) on August 29, 2025, with instructions on how to claim their Annual Pass; in the understanding, however, that the person awarded the Annual Pass will have one (1) hour from 8:00 p.m. (local time in Mexico City) on August 29, 2025, to claim their Annual Pass, failure to do so within this time frame will result in the Annual Pass being assigned to the participant who placed sixth, or the next in line, with this same rule applying to all Participants. Only the first Photograph added and uploaded to the Volaris Website will be considered; no more than one (1) Photograph may be submitted on the Volaris Website by any participant.

As part of the Activity, Volaris will publish “stories” through its official accounts on various social networks to redirect participants to the main post of this Activity on the Social Networks and invite them to participate.

Anyone wishing to participate in the Activity (hereinafter, a “Participant” and collectively, the “Participants”) must go to any of the Social Networks channels, find the post for this Activity, and, once there, click on the link included in the Activity post, which will take you to the Volaris Website, and there, after filling out the Form, the Participant must upload and publish a Photograph that meets the requirements set forth in the third paragraph of Section I of these Terms; provided, however, that only the first Photograph uploaded to the Volaris Website will be considered and Participants may not upload more than 1 (one) Photograph to the Volaris Website. For the avoidance of doubt, only the first registration made on the Volaris Website when uploading and publishing the Photograph will count toward participation in the Activity.

Further, entries will not be considered, and will be immediately disqualified from participating in the Activity, if the Photographs uploaded to Volaris Website contain any of the following elements or content (hereinafter, collectively referred to as “Inappropriate Content”):

- a) Text, images, or actions involving profanity, offensive or explicit language, double meanings, obscene language, or any phrases, stories, or depictions with sexual or violent connotations, as well as mockery or insults towards an individual or group, or any disparaging or discriminatory remarks, words, or actions.
- b) Trademarks, copyrights, trade names, commercial notices, or any type of intellectual property owned by third parties without proper authorization (hereinafter, “Third-Party Intellectual Property”) within the Photograph’s content. If a Participant uses Third-Party Intellectual Property, and those third parties make a claim against Grupo Volaris or its shareholders, officers, directors, executives, employees, agents, or representatives for unauthorized use or infringement, the Participant must hold Grupo Volaris harmless and indemnify them against any claims or legal actions from those third parties.
- c) Texts, images, or actions in the Photograph that promote any company, corporate group, commercial establishment, or any other organization—regardless of legal structure—other than Volaris.

Photographs that have been taken from image banks, even if they are free to use, will not be accepted, since in that case, the Participant would be participating with a Photograph that was not taken by the Participant themselves. Finally, Photographs generated with, or quality-enhanced by, artificial intelligence and/or use of any kind of generative technology will not be accepted in this Activity.
