

Hold your fare terms and conditions

When booking your flight on volaris.com, you will be able to select the option to "Hold your fare" after selecting your baggage, when the product is selected, you will have to pay $10.99 USD to hold the fare. This product will allow you to hold your reservation for up to 72 hours. Within the 72 hours, you must pay the total cost of your reservation with any of the following payment methods: debit card or credit card through My trips; In case of not paying the full amount of the cost of your reservation, the charge you have paid for this product will not be refundable under any circumstances. Once your reservation is paid, you can add any additional product to your reservation through the My trips page.

* This product will not be available for domestic or international trips with a departure of less than 3 days.